Charles Jones Loses a Leg in a Railway Accident.

Charles Jones was run over on the Chicago & West Michigan railroad near Alpine by a construction train yesterday. Both legs were crushed and mangled below the knee so that amputation was necessary. He was an employe of the company and was working on the train in the capacity of a laborer. He was shoveling sand from a flat car. The train was moving slowly. In some manner he slipped and fell from the car. He was brought to this city and taken in the ambulance to St. Mark's hospital. Dr. Wooster at-tended him. At St. Mark's hospital last night they said that it had been necessary to amputate his right leg would be necessary to amputate his left leg or not. His chances for recovery were favorable.

LITERARY LADIES.

An Afternoon Devoted to a Varied Program.

The afternoon was in charge of the Science and Education committee. The first paper read was on the subject of the "Electric Car System," being condensed from two essays written by some of the pupils in physics at the high school. This was followed by Scientific Items, given in a happy original manner, including items in regard to "Women's Organizations' for furnishing information to burists', description of Meteorite, found in Arisona, which contained black diamonds in its interior, valuable marble quarry in the mountains of Virginia, the experiments of Prof. Gardner in learning the language of our ancestors, the monkeys; sun spots and the Aurora, and a description of the beautiful Aurora, which was visible at St. Paul's, minutes about wolf children and the discovery of the American microbe, which is found in the brain, purely mental, and accounts for authors writing similar books at the

'The Old Oaken Bucket" was sung After recess two scientific papers were read on Aluminum and Patrol-were read on Aluminum and Patrol-leum, both very interesting.

One of the ladies is to study the sub-ject of "Federation," and present it to the club on next Saturday.

Guests: Mrs. C. D. Towne, Elk Rapids; Mrs. Albert Golds, Lansing.

The program ceased with the singing of "America" by the club.

REVIEW OF THE MARKETS. Fluctuations in Prices and the Tone of Trade.

The local market during the latter part of the week received a generashaking up. Wheat advanced from the lowest point that had existed for several years to 85 cents a bushel. In consequence of the advance in wheat flour put up 10 cents a hundred. Corn and oats went down a centa bushel closing at 49 cents for the former and so cents for the latter. Buckwheat is comparatively out of the market and quotations are no longer gieen. Meats have been easy. Pork declined slightly and closed at 5 and 6 cents. Clover seed is scarce and holds its position in the market with firmness. It is quoted to farmers at $6.50 a bushel. Butter continues steady for choice lots at 20 cente, but eggs are weak and have declined during the week to 10 and 12 cents a dozen. Not much change in potatoes, the market quotations remaining at 20 cents a bushel. Cabbages are quoted at 50 cents a dozen and beets at 25. Lettuce is in the market in plentiful quantities at 18 cents a pound. Radishes are quoted at 30 cents a dozen, and saisify at 20 and 25. New onions are selling at 15 cents a gozen. Pie plant of a good growth is in good supply at 8 cents a pound. Apples are scarce and the quotations buoyant. Good apples are quoted at $1 a bushel. Carrots are worth 25 cents, rutabagas, 30, and parentps 35 cents a bushel. Maple sugar has been lower than for several years. The prevailing price has been 8 cents a po and the syrup is quoted at 70 and 75 cents a gailon. Hay is about equal to the demand at $12 and $15 a ton.

NO MORE PRESENTS.

The Retail Clothing Merchants Have Entered Into An Iron-Clad Agreement.

For some time the local clothing and furnishing goods merchants have maintained a strong but good-natured rivairy and have severally exerted themselves each to outdo the other in attracting trade. To such an extent was this carried that in order to keep up with the enterprise of their neigh gifts as an inducement to buyers. inis is stopped now, and in the future ne gifts or presents will be given away. The gentlemen have mutually agreed to stop it, and it will prove salutar; like to merchant and customer. Fol owing are the articles of agreement:

On Seasonable and Stylish Things for the Men

SOCIETY REMAINS VERY DULL

With Here and There Little Parties to Relieve the Stupid Evenings Personal Mention.

Now that the Easter bonnet is about to be relected, the following millinery hints will doubtless be read with in-

Black satin hats will be worn this

Lacey effects in straw hats will be worn this summer. The military feather will be used on both hats and toques.

The strings on large hats must be at least two inches wide.

The opened-crowned hats appear in a variety of styles and are very stylesh. The Fanchon hat is chic and is very like that of a Tam O'Shanter in shape. Lace is seen on the majority of hats, being disposed in rosettes, cascades, Very thin tulle veils in pale blue, lavender, pink, pale green and scarlet are worn with light evening bonnets.

The use of yellow, pale blue, light amber and pale green satin ribbon in full bows will look well on these hats. Shaded velvet ribbon is fancied for basso. This morning, a duet by Gou-nod, will be sung by Miss Goodman the pert little bows that are worn on the front of bonnets and little hats.

For a large hat a large veil is required, and it is wisest in buying one to get a full yard to drape about your chapeau. A jeweled trimming which gives light effects of color, and having unts which harmonize with spring colors, is seen on varied toques. The heavy veils of crape, or of nun's veiling, may only be worn with the plain, close crepe bonnet, and would be quite out of keeping if worn with any Among the novelties in ribbons, one of pale yellow silk has a design of blackberries wrought on it, the berries themselves being formed of sparkling jet beads, while the leaves and bram-bles are of black silk.

A very simple hat is made of black chip, with a band of yellow straw let into the brim a little above the edge. The brim is broad and fluted at the front and turned up at the back, and the "crowned." which is low, is massed with trimming.

Other Things to Wear. These are seasonable helps for those who are replenishing their wardrobes in anticipation of a warmer season: Dresses of black net in basket pattern made over shot silk are stylisb.

White dotted lawns have designs of fruits and leaves and are effective for

All diamonds, except that of an engagement or wedding ring are put aside by those wearing deep mourning.

Sitk ribbon fringe is among the new trimmings for wool or silk dresses. It is mexpensive and very handsome. Among revived fancies are very handsome Roman and Persian silk sashes, also silk blouses made of richly striped silks and sating. A pretty dress can be made of white Henrietta cloth, with chiffon, vest, sleeves and coat friils on which white gros grain ribbon may be set in boy Among the effects which will be popular are, green with black, ahrimp with black, pale blue with black or dull brown and striped goods having one

Very elegant are the styles shown in plastrons, fichues and separate cuff to be slipped over a sleeve plain at the waist and by using these a plain waist may be given a fancy appearance.

With regard of foulness, it may be appear upon almost all lace dresse and gowns in lighter fabrics, during the coming season and will be made of chiffon, lace, embroidered net or the material of the dress itself.

An old novelty imported from Lon don for the early spring wear is the eack-coat, an out-side jacket made of smooth cloth or twilled covert coating. The back hangs straight, without being shapped to the figure, the front is double-breasted and the garment generally resembles the box-coats worn by men as driving coats. One or two rows of stitching are along the edges of the whole garment. Barge white pearl buttons complete the coat.
